A committee appointed by the Judicial Service Commission (JSC) has proposed to suspend Supreme Court judge Ali Hameed for failing to cooperate in its investigation over extra-marital sex.

Haveeru understands that the committee took the decision last week as Hameed had repeatedly failing to comply with summons. The decision has to be approved by the judicial watchdog.

Police had requested separate warrants about three months ago to search Hameed's apartment and take his photograph. But Criminal Court has rejected the police request.

Both JSC and police are investigating the sex scandal involving the judge.

Police had summoned and questioned judge Hameed twice but no details have been revealed thus far.

However, no action has been taken against judge Hameed thus far, as he continues to sit on the Supreme Court bench.

December 17, 2013 - 6 months 2 weeks ago

, 0 comments

The committee established by the Judicial Service Commission (JSC) to investigate the allegations against Supreme Court Judge Ali Hameed, after a sex video involving him was leaked some months ago, has passed to suspend the judge.

Sun Online has come to know that this decision was passed unanimously by all members of the committee last week.

The committee cited Judge Hameed's unwillingness to cooperate with the investigation as its reason for the suspension.

Judge Hameed has also not complied with the committee's summons.

A sex video of Judge Hameed was leaked several months ago on social media. The case is also under investigation by the police.

Concerns have been raised by members of the judicial sector following the delay in taking any action against Judge Hameed.
