BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

Deputy High Commissioner, Mr. Mohamed Fahmy Hassan

The new Deputy High Commissioner Mr. Mohamed Fahmy Hassan assumed his duties at the High Commission on 3 January 2014.

Before joining the Diplomatic Service Mr. Fahmy was the President of the Civil Service Commission of the Maldives, a post he had held since August 2010. In his capacity at the National Commission he also served as a member of the Coordinating Committee of the Asian Group of Public Administration (AGPA) and participated in activities of many international organisations such as the Commonwealth, UNESCO, UNCIEF, UNDP and others.

A Masters graduate from the University of Bath, England, in Education and management Mr. Fahmy is a veteran in the Education sector into which he has contributed extensively. During his illustrious career he taught in and managed a total of 11 institutes in the Maldives including CHSC, Dharumavantha School, Iskandharr School, Jamaludheen School and Kalafan School and was instrumental in spreading secondary education in the Maldives wherein he successfully started the first secondary schooling in the islands of Maldives at Fuahmulaku. He also contributed immensely on extra curricular activities and promoted all round development of students in all the institutions he worked. Mr. Fahmy has also coordinated and managed the establishment of four different schools across the country. A firm believer of life-long learning, he has also authored the 1st formal primary text book for “Dheenee Tharubiyath” for primary grades and wrote many scripts for educational television and radio programs and worked tirelessly in the area of staff development in the institutions he has led.

With a long serving public service record, Mr. Fahmy has worked in various government agencies including the President’s Office, Ministry of Health, Ministry of Education, Ministry of Higher Education and various government schools. He has also sat in the Judicial Services Commission, the statutory judicial watchdog. While leading International relations and Planning Division of Ministry of Education he was instrumental in extending A/L education to many island schools and as the Director General of Ministry of Higher Education he also reformed the National Scholarship Fund and facilitated the expansion of private higher education in the country.

In the area community service Mr. Fahmy formed and manages the Fuahmuaku Development Foundation (NGO) and is proprietor and Managing Director of Foundation Schools; a community based educational establishment, since 1994.
